THE PLATFORM.

The Democratic party, in National Convention assembled, reposing its trust in the intelligence, patriotism and discriminating justice of the people; standing upon the Constitution as the Landmark and limitation of the powers of the Government, and the guarantee of the liberties of the citizen; and recognizing the questions of slavery and secession as having been settled for all time to come by the war or the voluntary action of the Southern States in Constitutional Conventions assembled, and never to be renewed or reagitated; so, with the return of peace, demand,

1. Immediate restoration of all the States to their rights in the Union under the Constitution and civil government of the American people.

2. Amnesty for all past political offenses, and the regulation of the elective franchise in the States by their citizens, and the payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable.

3. All money drawn from the people by taxation, except so much as is requisite for the necessities of the Government, economically administered, should be honestly applied to such payment, and where the obligations of the Government do not expressly place upon their face, or the law under which they were issued does not provide that they shall be paid in coin, they ought, in right and justice, to be paid in the lawful money of the United States.

4. Equal taxation of every species of property according to its real value, excluding Government bonds, and other public securities.

5. One currency for the Government and the people, the laborer and the office-holder, the pension-paid the soldier, the producer and the bondholder.

6. Economy in the administration of the Government; the reduction of the standing army and navy; the abolition of the Freedmen's Bureau, and all political instrumentalities designed to secure negro supremacy; simplification of the system and the reduction of the force of inquisitorial boards for assessing and collecting internal revenue, so that the burden of taxation may be equalized and lessened; the creation of the Government currency made good; the repeal of all enactments for enrolling the State militia into National forces in time of peace; a tariff for revenue upon foreign imports, and such equal taxation under the internal revenue laws as will afford incidental protection to domestic manufactures, and as will, without inspiring the revenue, impose the least burden upon and best promote and encourage the great industrial interests of the country.

7. Reform of abuses in the Administration, the expulsion of corrupt men from offices, the abrogation of useless offices, the restoration of rightful authority to, and the independence of the Executive and Judicial departments of the Government, the subordination of the military to the civil power to the end that the usurpations of Congress and the despotism of the sword may cease.

8. Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native-born citizens at home and abroad; an assertion of American nationality, which shall command the respect of foreign powers, and furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights, and the maintenance of the rights of naturalized citizens against the absolute doctrine of immutable allegiance, and the claims of foreign powers to punish them for alleged crime committed beyond their jurisdiction.

In demanding these measures and reforms we arraign the Radical party for its disregard of right, and the unparalleled oppression and tyranny which have marked its career, after the most solemn and unanimous pledge of both Houses of Congress to prosecute the war exclusively for the maintenance of the Government and the preservation of the Union under the Constitution.

It has repeatedly violated that most sacred pledge under which was raised that noble volunteer army, which carried our flag to victory.

Instead of restoring the Union, it has, so far as in its power, dissolved it, and subjected ten States in time of peace to military despotism and negro supremacy.

It has nullified there the right of trial by jury.

It has abolished the habeas corpus, that most sacred writ of liberty.

It has overturned the freedom of speech and the press.

It has substituted arbitrary seizures and arrests, and military trials and secret Star Chamber inquisitions, for constitutional tribunals.

It has disregarded in time of peace the right of the people to be free from search and seizure.

It has entered the post and telegraph offices, and even the private rooms of individuals, and seized their private papers and letters, without any specification or notice of affidavit, as required by the organic law.

It has converted the American capitol into a bastile.

It has established a system of spies and official espionage to which no constitutional monarchy of Europe would dare to resort.

It has abolished the right of appeal on important constitutional questions to the supreme judiciary tribunal, and threatens to curtail or destroy its original jurisdiction, which is irrevocably vested by the Constitution, while the learned Chief Justice has been subjected to the most atrocious calumnies, merely because he would not prostitute his high office to the support of the false and partisan charges preferred against the President.

Its corruption and extravagance have exceeded anything known in history, but by its frauds and monopolies it has vastly doubled the burdens of debt created during the war.

It has stripped the President of his constitutional power to appointment, even of his own cabinet.

Under its repeated assaults the pillars of the Government are rocking on their base, and should it succeed in November next and inaugurate its president we will meet as a subject and conquered people amid the ruins of liberty and the scattered fragments of the Constitution; and we do declare and resolve that ever since the people of the United States threw off all subjection to the British Crown, the privilege and trust of suffrage have belonged to the several States, and have been granted, regulated and controlled exclusively by the political power of each State respectively, and any attempt by Congress, on any pretext whatever, to deprive any State of this right, or interfere with its exercise, is a flagrant usurpation of power which can find no warrant in the Constitution, and, if sanctioned by the people, will subvert our form of government, and can only end in a single centralized, consolidated government, in which the separate existence of the States will be entirely absorbed, and an unqualified despotism be established in place of a Federal Union of equal States.

That we regard the reconstruction acts of Congress, so-called, as usurpations, unconstitutional, revolutionary and void, and that our soldiers and sailors who carried the flag of our country to victory against a most gallant and determined foe, must ever be gratefully remembered, and all the guarantees given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.

That the public lands should be distributed widely among the people, and should be disposed of either under the pre-emption or homestead laws, and sold in reasonable quantities, and to actual occupants at the minimum price as established by the Government. When grants of the public lands may be allowed, necessary for the encouragement of important public improvements, the proceeds of the sale of such lands and not the lands themselves should be so applied.

That the President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, in exercising the power of his high office in resisting the aggressions of Congress on the constitutional rights of the States and the people, is entitled to the gratitude of the whole American people, and on behalf of the Democratic party we tender him our thanks for his patriotic efforts in that regard.

Upon this platform the Democratic party appeals to every patriot, including all the conservative element and all who desire to support the Constitution and restore the Union, forgetting all past differences of opinion, to unite with us in the present great struggle for the liberties of the people, and that to all such, to whatever party they may have heretofore belonged, we extend the right hand of fellowship and bid all such co-operating with us as friends and brothers.

The New Hebrew Orphan Asylum at Cleveland—Some Notes of the Order Erecting It—History of the Project—Description of the Building and Grounds—A Noble Charity.

On Tuesday, July 14, the new Orphan Asylum on Kinsman street, near Wilson avenue, was dedicated with appropriate and imposing ceremony. Since April, of this year, the preparation of the building and grounds for the uses designed has been in progress, but little or nothing has been said of it in the newspapers, and the great work just now on the eve of completion has gone on, attracting very little attention outside of those who have the work in charge. The enterprise, however, is of such magnitude, and has been carried out in so liberal a spirit and so successfully, that it is worthy of extended notice. We give below a full account of its inception and a description of the building and grounds:

I. O. B. B.

The Independent Order of Benai Berith (Sons of the Covenant) is a Hebrew benevolent society extending throughout the country. There are four districts in the United States, the second of which includes the Western and Southwestern States. The society has a membership of about 8000, and the second district about 3200. In the district there are thirty-four lodges. Annual conventions of delegates from these lodges are held, first in one city, then in another.

At a meeting of the Grand Lodge in Cleveland in 1863, Messrs. B. F. Peixotto and A. Schwab were appointed a committee on charitable institutions, and reported a plan of a small annual assessment of the members for the purpose of forming the nucleus of a fund to be applied to the building of an orphan asylum when the amount should be large enough. This was adopted, and the fund commenced. Two years afterward, when the Grand Lodge met at St. Louis, it was deemed advisable to take the initiatory steps to procure an asylum. Thereupon the following gentlemen were appointed trustees with power to select a location for the asylum: A. Aub, Cincinnati, Chairman of the Board; Isadore Bush, St. Louis; W. Kriegshaber, Louisville; A. E. Frankland, Memphis; E. Ludwig, Cleveland. This board visited several of the principal cities in the district, and received several propositions, but finally decided on the location at Cleveland, being influenced thereto as well by the healthiness of the place as by the advantageous site on Kinsman street. So the contract was made, and the purchase completed in April, 1868.

There are orphan asylums and hospitals, erected by the Israelites in New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and New Orleans; but this is the first public institution, reared and erected by the I. O. B. B. in the United States, and hence the order, more especially D. G. L. No. 2, comprising the Western and Southern States, feel an undue amount of pride in the same.

THE BUILDING AND GROUNDS.

It would be difficult to find anywhere a pleasanter location for an orphan asylum than the grounds on Kinsman street, near Wilson avenue, lately occupied as a water-cure. The place is away from the noise of the busier parts of the city, and is easily accessible by the street railway. Nature has done much to beautify the grounds, and art has added something. The old forest trees still adorn the rear of the lots, and a large spring of remarkably pure and cold water pours its overflow through a winding ravine in the same locality. The grounds fronting on Kinsman street have considerable ornamental shrubbery, well laid out carriage ways and graveled walks, a fine fountain, etc. There is a front on Kinsman street 330 feet, and a depth of nearly or quite 500 feet. There is also a front of 165 feet on Sawtell avenue. The whole tract comprises 5½ acres. The building is substantially built of brick, has a front of 130 feet, basement and three stories and a rear of 70 feet. It was built in 1857, by Strong & Totten for a water-cure, and used as such for some months, when in 1859 Dr. T. T. Seelye became its owner. From him the I. O. B. B. purchased the building and grounds for $31,000.

The original cost was scarcely more than half the entire expense of the asylum. Handsome stone steps at the main entrance have been constructed, gas has been put in every room in the building, furnaces provided, water furnished throughout, and nearly all the interior walls taken out to adapt the building to its new use. A handsome cupola has also been added to the building. At the spring before mentioned, a powerful hydraulic ram has been set, to supply the whole building with pure, cool water. The expense of these improvements will make the entire cost of the asylum, when ready for occupancy, about $65,000.

As the fund of the institution had reached but $12,000, an appeal was made to the Israelites of the West and South, and in the short space of four months the sum of $40,000 was donated and paid in, thus leaving but $15,000 debt hanging on this great charity. This simple act alone shows what can be done, when properly undertaken.

INTERIOR ARRANGEMENT OF THE ASYLUM.

In the basement is the dining room, abundantly large and very pleasant. On one side are the kitchens, with large range, boilers, heaters, etc., and on the other the laundry. There are numerous store-rooms, beside those containing the four furnaces that heat the building. Hot and cold water are supplied on every floor throughout. The fixtures of the kitchens and laundry are of the most approved style, and the whole is as nearly perfect as possible.

On the first floor are the reception room, the business offices, the Superintendent's rooms, the prayer room, bath rooms, play rooms, etc. All these are handsomely and appropriately furnished.

On the second floor are bath rooms, closets, etc, for both sexes. Here also are the two main wards for the smaller children, each with matron's room adjoining. All the sleeping rooms are furnished with light iron bedsteads, mattresses, etc., as neat and comfortable as need be. The main wards, being large rooms, accommodate twelve children each. There are also on this floor numerous smaller rooms, for larger children, or such as do not need special and constant care during the night. There are also here, three sick rooms, with beds and proper furniture and fixtures for the care of sick children. Here, too, is the general store-room for linen, beddmg, etc., and, as on the third floor, clothes presses, with a separate apartment for each child, numbered in order.

On the third floor are the two school rooms, each about 25x75 feet. These are supplied with the new iron frame, folding-seat desk, of different sizes for larger or smaller children. There are more wards and sleeping rooms here, and additions also to the number of play rooms. There are bath rooms, closets, etc., beside.

All these rooms are supplied with gas, and heated by the furnaces in the basement. The furnishings are all remarkably neat, and the entire arrangement admirable for its convenience. City as well as spring water is supplied—the former for bathing, etc.

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS PROPOSED.

Beside what has been mentioned, various other improvements, principally in the grounds, will be effected as time and opportunity offer. Some of these are already in progress, among them, stairways leading into the ravine and over the miniature pond, from which the hydraulic ram is supplied, and winding walks along the banks. In due time a pond, duly supplied with fish, will be one of the attractions of this beautiful part of the grounds, while under the skillful supervision of an experienced gardener, the grounds in front of the building will assume new beauty.

THE INMATES.

Though the formal dedication of the Asylum took place on the 14th inst., it will not be opened for the reception of orphans until September or October. Mr. W. Kriegshaber is Secretary of the Board of Trustees, and he has already had reported to him the names of about forty applicants for admission. It is expected that one hundred will be received from all parts of the district the first year. The building will easily accommodate three hundred, which will supply the wants of the district at the present time.

ALABAMA.

—The Huntsville Independent says: We heard last night that Thos. Graham was shot and killed yesterday evening, by "big Ed" Douglass, on Mr. Wm. Matkin's plantation.

—The same paper says: We regret to learn that Miss Callie Hewlett, daughter of A. M. Hewlett, was killed by lightning, near Maysville, in this county, during the storm on Saturday last.

—The prayers of the colored chaplain of the House of Representatives of Alabama, had to be shortened by a resolution of that body. It is reported that his prayers since, are all in short meter.

—The Selma Times says fine rains fell here Sunday and were pretty general around here. Yesterday, there were rains in several parts of the county. The weather was cloudy and warm during the day and to midnight, and good seasons are expected.

—For some time past the upper story of the building next to the southeast corner of Dauphin and Hamilton streets, has been used by a gang of worthless negroes and mean whites as a Loyal League meeting room. The owner of the premises not liking his tenants, gave them notice to quit, which they did several days since. Before leaving, however, they fired the room in several places, but fortunately no damage was done, beyond the charring of a small portion of the floor and wall. The fire went out of its own accord, and nothing was known of the attempt till yesterday morning, when the room was opened for the purpose of being cleaned and aired, which it sadly needed. No arrests have been made, it being impossible to fasten the crime on any particular person.—Mobile Exchange.

—The many friends of Judge Robert Dougherty, for the last eighteen years presiding Judge of one of the Circuit Courts of Alabama, will regret to learn of his death, which occurred at his residence in Tuskegee, Ala., on Friday last.

GEORGIA.

—The Atlanta Intelligencer of the 22d says: Gen. Robert Toombs arrived in town last evening, and it is thought he will address the great Democratic meeting to-morrow.

—The Savannah Republican says: The crops in this immediate vicinity are looking fair. Corn in some places promises abundantly; in others it does not look so well; but on the whole a pretty good yield may be expected. Other crops are doing better since the late rains.

—The Rome Courier says: We were shown, several days ago, by Mr. J. M. Wright, two cotton bolls from the fields of Mr. Isaac Lowe, of this county, and Mr. John W. Snow, of Walton. These bolls measure four inches around, and made their appearance on the 14th and 21st of June.

—The same paper says: on Friday afternoon we were favored with a very respectable shower—the first in a long time. Gardens burnt up, and corn crops ruined! The mercury last week ranged as high as 100° Fahrenheit? We were again blessed with a genial shower Sunday afternoon.

—A great deal of excitement prevails in Alpharetta, Milton county, in consequence of gold discoveries near that place. A company is already engaged in testing and prospecting. Several lots have been leased, within a mile of the town. The new gold belt extends entirely across the county, from east to west, and running north as far as Marietta.

—The Atlanta Constitution says that it is currently reported that Joseph, the immaculate, is offering to make a bargain with the Democrats to the effect that if they will permit him to go into the Senate, they shall have the other Senator, as well as the Judgeships and minor officers at the disposal of the Governor!

NEWS GLEANINGS.

—Several cases of cholera in New York.

—Burglars attempted to rob the Farmers' and Drovers' Bank, of Somers, Westchester county, N. Y., on Saturday night—scared off.

—The Beni Berith assembled in convention in New York on the 19th inst. to frame a new constitution for the brotherhood.

—We have information from official quarters, contradicting the rumor industriously circulated last week, of the sale of the Missouri Valley Railroad. On the contrary the officers are making preparation for the speedy extension of the road, expecting to make connection at Kansas City this fall.

—A few days ago one of the dredging machines in the docks of the new piers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, at Greenwich Point, dug up the bones of a man supposed to be the peddler who mysteriously disappeared from the vicinity of the Point House about thirty years ago.

—A New Jersey paper directs attention to the offer of two thousand building lots, capable of accommodating from eight thousand to ten thousand souls, whom it is expected to add to the State population, mostly from the continuous overflow of the population of New York, Newark and Jersey City.

—The San Francisco Bulletin says: Shipbuilding and repairing are tolerably brisk this spring. Several square-toed schooners for the bay trade are on the stocks, or have just been put afloat. They are built at less cost than crafts with sharp ends, and they carry larger cargoes on a much less draft of water.

—The Cape Cod Gazette says that during the tempest of last Thursday lightning struck the water of Waquoit Bay, which so affected the eels that they came to the top of the water, their heads cut like sea serpents, and swam to the shore. On being taken and thrown back into the water, they immediately came ashore again. The following morning some fifteen barrels of eels were picked up on the beach.

—In Washington a few days ago, Judge Fisher made a decree divorcing Corinda A. Etheridge from the bonds of matrimony with James Etheridge. The petitioner sets forth that she was married to the respondent on the 8th of March, 1862, at which time she believed that her former husband, David S. Kellogg, had been killed in battle about a year previously, but she, to her great surprise, found subsequently that he was living.

—The lumber trade in the Saginaw Valley, Michigan, is in a highly prosperous condition. More buyers are in from abroad this year than ever before, and the greater demand from the East which has sprung upsince the opening of navigation has had the effect to cause a rise in prices from $5 to $7 a thousand. Prices now hold firm at $6, $12 and $35 for the three grades respectively. Chicago, for the first time, begins to demand lumber from Saginaw, and between 6,000,000 and 8,000,000 feet have been taken to that city during the season.

CRIME IN NEW ENGLAND.

Pretty Well for One Day.

Two Murders in Massachusetts and One in Connecticut.

The land of steady habits, of "God and Morality," does not seem to be very far ahead of our KuKlux-ridden, God-forsaken South, as far as "steady habits" or obedience to the laws of God and morality—witness the following clippings from one day's mails:

A MAN MURDERED BY HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW, IN CANTON, MASS.

From the Boston Journal, July 18.]

For several days past the officers have been busy working up what was supposed to be a case of murder, and the affair has assumed the following shape:

A Mrs. Madden and her son-in-law, Obed Jones, with his wife, lived in the town of Canton, on the borders of Randolph, a locality which is represented as being one of the most degraded in the State. On Sunday, July 5, about five a.m., Mrs. Madden sent word to a neighbor that she had found Obed dead in his bed from the effects of a pistol shot. Upon arriving at the spot the body of Jones was found in the room where he usually slept, partially on the bed, which had been placed on the floor, and a pistol which had been discharged, lying on the floor near by it. Mrs. Madden and his wife pretended that they knew nothing about the matter, only that they found him there in that condition.

The attention of the State constables Garey and Eldridge was called to the matter, and they, in connection with deputy sheriffs Warren and Ward, set about investigating it. They found that there had been trouble between Jones and Mrs. Madden, growing out of the fact that some parties had threatened to commence a prosecution against Mrs. M. for adultery, and Jones was expected to be a witness in the case against her, and she had made threats against him in case he should appear against her. On the night of the 4th of July, Jones and his wife went to bed as usual, and soon after had some words, when he denounced her in severe language, and told her to get up and go away, saying that he would not live with her any longer. She got up and took her infant child and went to her mother's room and went to bed with her. The first story she told was that she went to sleep and after a while waked up and went and looked through a window into her husband's room and saw him in the position in which he was found Sunday morning. The story she now tells is that she went to her mother's room and was kept awake by the baby for a while, but at last went to sleep; that she heard a noise which awoke her, but she went to sleep again, and was awakened by her mother, who told her that Obed had shot himself, when she got up and found him dead.

The mother and daughter were arrested two or three days ago, and were taken to Dorchester and committed to the lock-up. There was no positive proof of the guilt of the parties until last night, when a conversation was overheard between them, in which the mother admitted having committed the murder, and appealed to the daughter to stick to the lie which they had before told, so as to clear her.

The two women were to be brought before Justice Temple in Dorchester this morning, and would be sent to Dedham jail for safe keeping until the grand jury investigate their case.

A NEW YORK MAN MURDERED IN CONNECTICUT.

From the Middletown report of the Hartford Post, July 18.]

About one o'clock p.m. Friday the body of a man was found floating in the river near the dry dock, Middletown. It was picked up and proved to be that of Thomas Steele, of the firm of Steele & Millward, stone cutters, doing business in New York. Mr. Steele came here on Tuesday night for the purpose of buying stone at the quarries. He indulged very freely in liquor. Wednesday night he disappeared, and nothing further was heard of him until his body was found in the river. A coroner's inquest was held and the following facts were elicited: On Wednesday evening about eleven o'clock, he went to Portland to stop over night with a friend, but concluded after getting there to return to this city and got two men to row him over. Another person, an Englishmen, nicknamed "Doctor," also came over. On arriving this side the river the two men rowed back to Portland, leaving Steele and the "Doctor" in this city. Then traces of his whereabouts are lost, but there are circumstances that go to show that he was brutally murdered and his body thrown into the river. When found, his nose was mashed to a jelly, his jaw broken, front teeth all knocked out, and there was a fracture upon the back of the skull. The jury came to the unanimous conclusion that Steele came to his death by violence at the hands of some party to them unknown. Steele was a man about forty-five or fifty years old, has a wife and four children living in New York, is a Scotchman by birth, and is worth about $30,000. He is said to have had a considerable amount of money with him, but none was found upon his body, nor was there any wallet. His silver watch was in his pocket, and had stopped at quarter past four, which is about the time it is supposed his body was thrown in the river. It is said by those who knew him that he was, except when under the influence of liquor, a quiet, orderly man; that he was not habitually intemperate, but indulged in occasional sprees and was then quarrelsome.

SUSPECTED MURDER AT HOLYOKE, MASS.

From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, July 18.]

E. M. Smith, the South Holyoke ferryman, while crossing to the Willimansett side on Friday morning, discovered the body of a man floating down the stream, and at once secured it and took it to Holyoke, where Coroner Blodgett summoned a jury. The facts developed rendered necessary a postponement of the inquest until this morning. On searching his pockets a bank book was found, bearing the name of John Kelly. Inquiry showed that such a man was employed at the Germania mills, and that he was last seen at eleven o'clock on Wednesday evening coming out of a saloon kept by Daniel Shay. Several men were with him, whose names are known, and on whom there rests strong suspicion of foul play. The face and head of the body, though badly decayed, bear unmistakable marks of violence, and the river bank at a certain point bears evidence that a scuffle took place before the victim succumbed to his fate. Kelly left his boarding house early in the evening, taking his bank book, giving directions as he went out to be waked early, that he might start for Fall river. It is stated that he drew money from the bank in the evening. None was found upon his person, however.

RADICAL DISSENSION.

A party which is based upon corruption and public plunder cannot stand. It contains within itself the elements of dissolution. The only persons who are benefitted by such a party are those who hold the offices and their friends. The friends will not hold on long, unless they are substantially rewarded. Office holders cannot reward all their supporters. They must disappoint some. They must be false to others who expect promotion. Hence it follows that the party which is held together solely by the hope of personal reward, must, sooner or later, fall to pieces. The public weal is the only bond of union of a permanent party.

This is the solution of the Radical troubles and dissensions. It is a well-known fact that they are a party of public plunderers. Their theories are not even plausible. They do not even deceive themselves. They know, as well as their opponents, that they have no substantial claim upon the people for their support. This is the reason for their change of the franchise laws, for their violations of the Constitution, for their effort to overturn our system of Government.

If such a party were to come before the American people, as they were constituted before the war, they would be so badly defeated that they would never again appear as a party, in political history. It is only by cheating, and fraud, and swindling, and force that they hope to succeed. Not only the intelligence of the American people is against them, but the numerical force of the whole country, wherever it can be fairly ascertained, is opposed to them. They know this full well. They therefore throw every obstruction in the way of this numerical force being brought out. They cannot, however, prevent this. The voice of the people will be heard in the great contest at hand.

The party which is contending for the interest of the officeholders must divide, has divided and will continue to divide. The party which stands for the Constitution and the interests of the people will stand shoulder to shoulder and will command the support of every honest man, of every man who is not interested in the success of certain office-seekers, and of all who value the general prosperity of the country.

TENNESSEE.

—The Nashville papers had scarcely any local news in them on Thursday—something quite unusual. The Banner, especially, is one of the 'livest' papers in any part of the country.

—The Gazette says the thermometer stood ten feet high in the shade on Wednesday. It also says that the river is falling very slowly, with twenty inches scant on Harpethshoals. Weather warm and showery. From an old and reliable citizen of Winchester, we learn that everything is very quiet in that locality. The crops promise to exceed the expectations entertained a few weeks ago. Judging from the skedaddling that occurred from the political meeting at Statetown on Tuesday night last, the carpet-baggers will be successful—their running qualities are good. Mercer will have to look to his laurels.

—The Nashville Banner says: Policeman James Skiles, charged with an assault and battery upon the person of W. B. Monroe, forfeited a bond of $2000, on which Commissioner Stone was the surety, for non-appearance before Justices Brian and Caseity yesterday morning. He was rearrested and bound over in the sum of $2000 for his appearance before the Criminal Court.

—We take the following item also from the Banner: A shooting affray took place at Franklin yesterday afternoon between Wm. Ragsdale and Jas. Short, which resulted in the wounding of the latter in the abdomen, but whether mortally we were unable to ascertain. We hear Short went into Ragsdale's store, used abusive language toward him, and provoked a fight. The combatants were separated, but so soon as Short had been released by those who were holding him, he again attacked Ragsdale, who then drew a pistol and shot him.

ARKANSAS.

—The Little Rock Gazette has a "foreign correspondent," who has been to see in a Central American "dory." He don't like it a bit.

—From the Little Rock Gazette we learn that there is no important change in the river at that point. The water is still receding at the rate of one inch every twenty-four hours, but is still cutting out a bed which leaves the channel in as good condition as before.

—We were in error yesterday when we said there was no warrant of law for Clayton and McClure to draw their back pay. Our excuse for the injustice is the plea used by the girl who carried the slight evidence of an "indiscretion" committed in her arms: "It is such a little one!"

—On dit, founded on facts, adds Associate Justice Gregg to the list of those who drew pay so far back that the memory of men will not in future run to the contrary. The excuse assigned for the conduct of McClure and Gregg is their necessities, and, like necessity, they know no law!

JOHN STAPLER'S AFFIDAVIT.

Muscogee County, State of Georgia.

John Stapler, being duly sworn, says: On the 13th of May, 1868, he was driving a wagon in the peaceful pursuit of his business, when a United States soldier came up to him and seized him, leaving his wagon and horses in the street, without anybody in charge but a boy, whom he (Stapler) induced to mind them while he was under arrest. He was then taken to the military guard house in Columbus, detained there about one hour, and then carried under guard to the Muscogee Depot, and taken thence to Savannah, in company with John Wells, James Barber and Wade Stevens. Remained at Savannah in the guard house about one hour and a half. We were taken thence to the steamer and carried to Fort Pulaski and after some delay we were carried to a cell and there confined. After being in the cell about an hour and a half, Whitley, a government detective (the same man who has since frequently visited us at McPherson's barracks, Atlanta,), and Capt. Cook, who commands at Fort Pulaski, came to the cell and unlocked it, and made deponent come to the door, when Capt. Cook directed his orderly to search thoroughly the person and pockets of the deponent. Whitley and Capt. Cook then spoke together, and Capt. Cook ordered the barber sent for to shave deponent's head in one hour! Deponent was then put back in his cell. In about an hour he was brought out and blindfolded, carried down into a room, seated in a chair, and the bandage taken from his eyes. Then he was asked by Whitley "if he ever was discovered by a minister before he was put through," and he said he had an order from Gen. Meade to "put him through," and asked Capt. Cook to allow him a little while before he put deponent through, to which Capt. Cook replied he would not do it. Whitley insisted, and at last Capt. Cook consented to give Whitley fifteen minutes by his watch "to put deponent through." When the bandage was taken from deponent's eyes, he saw a soldier standing near a brass cannon, with a string from the cannon to his hand, and wherever deponent turned the cannon was ranged upon him. Deponent's beard was then lathered with two scrubbing brushes, and there were two or three razors lying on the table; deponent was made to stand up and be measured against the wall; during this time he was asked by Whitley if he knew, or had ever heard the people say anything about the Ashburn murder. He said he did not know anything, and had not heard anything about it. Whitley replied, "You need not tell me a lie; the rebels have been posting you, but it is no use."

Whitley then gave deponent till the next day to consult and study and see if it would not bring some good. Deponent was then put back in his cell and there remained in solitary confinement, never seeing Whitley again for four or five days, when he came there, took him out of his cell, carried him to another part of the fort, and showed "the sweat box," and told him if he didn't up and tell all he knew about it, he would put deponent in that sweat box and keep him there thirty days. Deponent told him he didn't know anything, and couldn't tell anything without it was a lie; but he must tell him all he knew! He then put deponent in the sweat box, which is a closet in the Fort, a little wider than deponent's body. The door closed within three or four inches of his breast; the only air admitted is through a few auger holes in the door. He was left in this condition under the belief that he was to remain there thirty days, unless he told about the Ashburn murder. He remained in this position about thirty-three hours, when Mr. Reed and Capt. Cook came and took him out. Whitley came up and said he allowed they had taken deponent out too soon, and he would have deponent back unless he told what he knew. When deponent was taken out his limbs were swollen and painful, and to this day suffers from the confinement. He was then turned loose, and allowed to walk about the fort, where he remained until the 9th of June; he was then put under guard and carried to At anta. During all this time he was strictly forbidden to talk to any one. About the 10th of June he was put in McPherson barracks, where he was very well treated, except that he was under orders not to talk to any one without permission. On Saturday, the 11th of July, in the afternoon, Whitley came to deponent and other colored persons who had been detained in prison, and told us to go to Maj. Smythe's office. When he got there Maj. Smythe gave him an order for $146, which he supposed was for witness fees and transportation. Deponent further says that he was never used as a witness, and never knew anything to witness about. Deponent further says that Stevens and Barber both knew that he had been put in the sweat box, and how he had been treated.

SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF MEMPHIS.

We call the attention of our readers to the card of the Southern Life Insurance Company, published in this issue of the APPEAL.

It is unnecessary to do more than point to the organization and the list of officers and directors, yet flattering ourselves that our paper is known by many who do not know some of the names connected with the Company, we will say a few words.

Mr. Woodruff, the President, not nominally but active, and devoting his time to the duties of his office, has made reputation enough as a successful business man, (and since the war President of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad Company), to retire on it if he so wished.

Ben. May, the Secretary, is one of our oldest and most successful Underwriters, as is attested by his position as President of the Memphis Board of Underwriters. The Assistant Secretary, Mr. Patterson, is thoroughly competent for the responsible duties devolving upon him.

T. A. Nelson, Esq., President of the Chamber of Commerce, and Col. Frank White, President Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad, are Vice Presidents of the Company.

The patrons of the Company may well congratulate themselves upon such promise as such a Board of Directors guarantees. After two years of struggle, the Company has passed the crisis, and enters the third year with more than ample capital, and surplus and prospects bright and flattering. The arrangement just perfected in Kentucky, Georgia, and the Carolinas, and the management in such hands means business, and explodes the idea that Southern enterprise must necessarily fail and fall to the ground.

It is the solemn duty of every man to insure his life, and all things being equal, it is no less his duty to patronize his own institutions and keep his money at home, and thus enrich his own section. We do not hesitate to say that it is an impossibility, either here or elsewhere, to get the same number of business names together, better entitled to credit and confidence. They are determined on one point, and that is, to test our Southern people, and see if they will patronize a Southern institution, and in the case of the Southern Life, they offer the opportunity upon the naked question of equal ability. Those of our citizens who have heretofore sympathized, but stood back, fearing the enterprise an experiment, can now come forward and help build up, by insuring in their own home institutions.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—By direction of the President, the Secretary of War will soon issue a general order, reorganizing the existing military districts of the South, and a number of officers now on duty in that district will be relieved from duty and ordered to other points.

The receipts from customs from July 15th to July 18th, inst., were $2,577,460.

BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, July 24.—The rain commenced falling early this morning and after a slight intermission began to pour down in torrents, and up to this time (4 p.m.) has continued to fall incessantly. That portion of the city adjacent to Jones' Falls is inundated, and travel is entirely suspended in that vicinity. Frederick and Harrison streets are completely flooded, also Center Market space and the Maryland Institute grounds are surrounded by a sheet of running water that is carrying hogsheads, barrels, bales of hay, etc., with it. The first floors of the streets named are under water and the merchants have been compelled to move their goods to the upper stories. The loss will be heavy, but it cannot now be estimated. No loss of life is yet reported.

LATER.—The river commenced rising a few minutes before 1 o'clock, at the rate of two inches per minute, and has continued to rise up to this hour (2:45 p.m.) Calvert street is flooded to Lexington, within a few feet of Monument Square; North street almost its entire length to the depth of from four to eight feet, and Holliday street to Fayette street; Ford's Theater being surrounded by the water which is passing down Holliday and Baltimore streets. Gay, Frederick and Harrison streets are entirely submerged. The water at Jones' Falls is several feet above the bridges, and it is not yet known whether they have been swept away or not. On many of the wharves south of Pratt street, from the Falls to Frederick street, the water is several feet deep. A city car was swept from the track on Gay street, down Harrison street, with a number of passengers. The wildest rumors prevail in regard to the number drowned. Some estimate the number at seven, and some say all were saved but one, Mr. Ward, a printer, who was drowned. It is impossible now to get the facts. A number of dray horses and some drivers are reported drowned. There is no communication between the eastern and western portions of the city, as the flood is sweeping everything before it, and no communication south, all the telegraph lines being down. No such flood was ever known before.

BALTIMORE, July 24—10 p.m.—The flood subsided this afternoon as suddenly as it arose. Shortly after 4 p.m. the water was carried off within the banks of Jones' Falls. At this hour the damage cannot be estimated, but none of the estimates place it below $3,000,000. Hundreds of stores were submerged, and many hogsheads of molasses on the wharves and sugar in the warehouses were destroyed. A large number of buildings were undermined and damaged. Denmead's foundry and the Brantly iron works were partly swept away. The gas works which supply the eastern part of the city are submerged, and that portion of the city is in the dark to-night.

Some of the water mains are reported carried away.

The loss of life in the city cannot be ascertained, but it is believed that but few have been drowned.

Mrs. Ward, who was reported drowned, was saved and is well.

Col. Webster, Collector of the port, rescued a man by rushing into four feet of water as he was being borne away in a torrent.

The trains to Washington are running. The damage to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is not great, but it is very heavy on the Northern Central Railroad, and the trains will not be running for several days.

A telegram this evening from Ellicott's mills, reports the Granite mills carried away and sixty lives lost, and Dr. Owen's entire family, except himself, drowned.

CONGRESSIONAL.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The Senate's bill for the temporary loan to redeem the compound interest notes was passed.

A bill was passed allowing $39,000 for temporary clerks for the Indian Bureau, State Department, and the expenses of the Surveyor General's office.

The Senate's amendment to the House bill for the payment of the captors of Jefferson Davis, was non-concurred in, and a committee of conference asked for.

The Senate Joint resolution permitting officers and soldiers to wear army badges, was passed.

Banks, from the Conference Committee on the Alaska bill, made a report, with Loughridge's preamble struck out, and the following substituted: "And Whereas, said stipulation cannot be carried into full force and effect, except by Legislation, to which the consent of both Houses of Congress is necessary," was agreed to.

SENATE.

Chandler called up the joint resolution in relation to the surveys and examinations of the rivers and harbors, which was passed.

Wilson introduced the following joint resolution, which passed:

Resolved, That the persons now holding civil offices in the provisional governments of Virginia and Texas, who cannot take and subscribe to the oath prescribed by the act entitled, "An Act to prescribe an oath of office, and for other purposes," approved July 2, 1867, shall, on the passage of this resolution, be removed therefrom; and it shall be the duty of the District Commander to fill the vacancies so created by the appointment of persons who can take said oath.

The Senate bill relating to the punishment of certain crimes against the United States was passed.

An unsuccessful attempt was then made to reconsider the resolution, the Senate taking a recess.

The Conference Committee on the Postal laws, made a report which was agreed to.

The House bill to protect actual settlers upon the public lands, was passed. It is as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., That in no case shall more than three sections of the lands of the United States be entered in any one township by scrip issued to any State under the act of July 2, 1862, for the establishment of an agricultural college therein.

Bingham, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill entitled "An act to provide for a more speedy reorganization of the States of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas," and for other purposes.

The first section authorizes the Constitutional Conventions of Texas, Mississippi and Virginia, heretofore elected, to exercise the following powers in addition to the powers now authorized by law, viz: To make removals and appointments of all officers of the Provisional Governments; to authorize the Provisional Governments to remove and appoint registers and judges of elections to be eligible to any elective office, and to organize and maintain a constabulary force to preserve peace and aid in the execution of the laws; to provide for the re-assembling of the Conventions; for holding elections, particularly on the ratification of the Constitutions, and to pass such ordinances not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of the United States as they may deem necessary to protect all persons therein in their lives, liberty and property.

The second section provides that the ordinances to be passed by such Conventions shall be enforced by the Provisional Governments until disapproved by Congress, and are not to be construed into a denial of the right to a jury trial for offenses against the laws of the United States.

The third section requires the military commanders to give aid in preserving the peace, enforcing the laws and especially in suppressing unlawful obstructions and forcible resistance to the execution of the laws.

The fourth section provides for the re-assembling of the Mississippi and Virginia Conventions on the fourth Wednesday after the passage of this act, which shall proceed to frame Constitutions and submit the same to the people.

The fifth section repeals all laws conflicting with this act.

The bill was originally presented to the Committee by Mr. Roane.

Lawrence, of Ohio, offered an amendment, which was adopted. It was as follows:

It makes it a penal offense, punishable with fine and imprisonment, for any person in said States to vote or act as officers in the ensuing Presidential election, and making it the duty of the President to prohibit such a thing.

The bill was then passed, by yeas 119; nays 27, a strict party vote.

On the motion of Schenck, a Committee of Conference was asked on the Funding bill, and Schenck, Logan and Boutwell were appointed.

The Committee on Accounts made a report exonerating the Door Keeper from improper conduct.

A resolution was passed petitioning Congress to remove the political disabilities from every citizen.

Letter from Holly Springs.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., July 22, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

According to promise I write to you to let you know what is going on here. The planters are all in good heart, as the prospects for a good crop are splendid all through this region of country.

We had a gubarious ratification meeting for Seymour and Blair last Saturday, Col. H. W. Walters presiding. Gen. Featherston, one of the electors for the State at large to the Democratic Convention, made a lengthy and happy effort, reviewing the political history of the country, exposing the evils of Radicalism, and vindicating the wisdom of the Convention in the adoption of its platform and selection of its candidates. Col. T. W. Harris followed in a very happy effort, speaking words of cheer and comfort to Mississippians, believing that the success of the party was almost certain in the approaching elections.

Maj. Strickland, Maj. Upshaw, Col. McGuirk and Col. H. W. Walters all respectively addressed the large crowd that was in attendance, in efforts that reflected credit on them as speakers. Col. Walter making, as usual, one of the most eloquent and forcible speeches of the occasion, and was loudly applauded and appreciated by the whole people. The meeting, after the adoption of the following resolutions, offered by Col. Watson, adjourned with three times three for Seymour and Blair.

Notwithstanding the rain, the crowd marched through the city, accompanied by transparencies and illuminations, and the firing of anvils etc. gave proof that a happier time has not been seen here since the war.

I must mention that Holly Springs now possesses a fine hotel, known as the Schuyler House, kept by that clever and accomplished gentlemen, Capt. Schuyler, who served under Forrest in the Lost Cause. His house is new and everything in it is also new.

There is a part of two companies of United States soldiers here, two companies not having returned from Durant, where they were sent prior to the election; they, however, they are looked for back here again this week. It is also currently believed that General Gillem, with his headquarters, will come here this week, which will make this little burg quite lively, if they do.

Your correspondent is under obligations to Mr. John Kirby, the gentlemanly and courteous conductor on the Mississippi Central Railroad, for favors bestowed on him. May he live long to conduct his train in safety, is the wish of INDIAN.

—Within the past week six deaths from casualty have occurred at Niagara Falls.

—A ten acre field of wheat, near Piatte City, belonging to Mr. Wilhite, recently harvested, yielded five hundred and eighty-three bushels and twenty-two pounds of wheat. Was this ever beaten or equaled in the United States?

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The meeting of delegates to select a Congressman and Electors for the Eighth District of Tennessee, will be held at Brownsville on the 10th of August.

IT IS suggested that a sort of wigwam be erected on the bluffs to accommodate the Democracy during the campaign.

SOMETHING HANDSOME.—The two cromoliths in the windows of Messrs. Church & Co. They are well worth a walk down Main street to see.

REV. D. D. SANDERSON, of Alabama, will preach in the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Poplar and Third streets, on Sabbath morning, (26th) at half-past ten o'clock.

THE WEATHER was cool and cloudy during the whole day yesterday. The thermometer did not range over 85° during the whole day in our office. A rain fell during the afternoon.

A MAGNIFICENT BOQUET.—We are indebted to Messrs. Trent & Thompson for a most beautiful boquet, sent to us yesterday. We can assure the gentlemen that by no one is a favor of the sort more appreciated.

THE WHARFBOATS.—The Chancellor refused to grant the injunction restraining the city from removing the "Star" wharf boat from the landing, in spite of the eloquent defense of the wharf boat interest by D. Welch, their attorney.

MAGAZINES FOR AUGUST.—Lippincott's has come to hand, and, as usual contains some most interesting matter. The Riverside, a magazine for the young, is also on our table. It is a most amusing and instructive little periodical, elegantly gotten up, and beautifully printed.

NOT CONFIRMED.—The telegraph announced yesterday morning the nomination of J. M. Keating, Esq., as postmaster at this point by the President. The evening dispatches informed us that the Senate rejected him. This is no more than Mr. Keating could have expected, since to get the 'loaves and fishes' one must needs be of the party dominant.

THE TOURNAMENT.—Col. Coleman desires us to say, in response to the query of a correspondent of the APPEAL a few days ago, that as soon as the Secretary, [illegible] sent, returns to the city, a statement will be made public, showing the receipts and expenditures of the Tournament Committee. This report will be made in a few days, and the public will be respectfully requested to delay judgment until that time.

A REMARKABLE FACT is, that while a few old logies are trying to stop the progress of the Nicholson pavement here in Memphis, in other cities the people are clamoring for it. We hope our City Council will pay no attention to the old fogy element who are trying to stop the improvement that is the making of Memphis. Let the good work go on. If the property holders cannot afford to pay a few dollars for an improvement that increases the value of their property an hundred fold, let them sell out to those who can.

OF COURSE everybody will read the APPEAL this morning, to see what Emmons & Son, at No. 10 Jefferson street and 393 Main street, received yesterday. Well, here it is: Dicken's Pickwick Papers, cheap edition, London Art Journal for July, Freeman's Journal, Turf, Field and Farm, Criminal Zeitung, Irish People, Demorest's Diamond Souvenir for 1869, Irish Citizen, Irish American, Artisan, Gartenlaube Magazine (German), Illustrated News, Littell's Living Age, Eclectic Magazine for August, and all the Dailies.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.—Yesterday afternoon, Mr. George Williams, feeling unwell, went into the old and excellent drug establishment of Messrs. Murray, Smithers & Co., to get "a pill to purge his melancholy." Mr. Murray, the senior partner of the firm, happening to be at hand, commenced making up the aforesaid pill, when a pistol, which was in the hands or pocket, or duds somewhere, of Mr. Williams, went off and shot him in the knee, making a flesh wound, not serious. We tender all hands our congratulations.

THE AGRICULTURAL CLUB.—All the citizens of Memphis who have any interest in the rejuvenation of Shelby county, are invited out to White's Station to-day to take part in the proceedings of the Agricultural Club at that point. Train leaves this morning at 9 o'clock and returns at 2 and 4 p.m.

ALMOST A RIOT.

The Irrepressible Conflict.

Police vs. Negroes.

Yesterday afternoon about sunset, the rumor spread like wild-fire through central and North Memphis that a riot was in progress in the Second District. No one knew or could give any particulars, but that there was a lot of "blood" spilled, and several corpuses defuncted all averred. Such a rumor was more than enough to make "the pulses of a local leap" and start him off in eager search for the "items."

On arriving at the reported scene of action, DeSoto, between Gayoso and Beal streets, we found an excited crowd of negroes and a few whites, standing around and discussing the affair. Nobody, however, knew any particulars, and we sallied off to the Second District station (Causey street), where we learned the following facts:

About five o'clock Policeman Henry Crupper, of the Second District, heard some one at or near the corner of Beal and DeSoto streets, cursing and whooping very vigorously. He immediately put for the scene of the noise, and on arriving there, found a buck negro of gigantic size and as black as the ace of spades, drunk and raising Cain generally. He immediately attempted to arrest him, and, after a few striking arguments from his peacemaker, applied to the African conch, succeeded in persuading him to go with him to the station. The prisoner walked along quietly enough until he arrived at the corner of Beal street and Causey, where he showed fight, and called upon a crowd of loafing loyal leaguers to rescue him from the clutches of the law. Loud as the roar of the shield of brotzas in the halls of Odin, when the scold calls to the conflict the feasting heroes, was the response, and the tribes of Africa, Ethiopia and Togormah, rushed to his aid, as if to a second Armageddon. They snatched him away from his captor, and with loud yells were bearing him off—the hero of the hour; but just at this critical moment a gentleman named Jenny came to Mr. Crupper's aid, and the two bold spirits charged the African ranks and again got possession of the prisoner—Jenny getting knocked down in the attempt.

By this time the alarm had become general; the police at the station had got word of the affair, and promptly repaired to the scene of the conflict and arrested the ringleaders of the mob. Several were severely clubbed before they could be induced to be quiet and obey the mandates of the law, but a little moral suasion, if properly applied, works wonders. The only way to reach a nigger's brain is through the skull, and the only way to get through that is by cracking it.

Seven arrests were made and the parties locked up in the Causey street station. The balance of the would-be mob melted like "dew before the rising sun" when the police appeared in sight. The affair will be examined into to-day by 'Squire Richards.

DENTAL CONVENTION.

Annual Meeting of the Tennessee Dental Association.

Fourth and Last Day's Proceedings of the Body.

The Association met at 8 o'clock a.m. to-day; Dr. Arrington, President, in the chair. The minutes were read and disposed of, after which unfinished and new business was taken up.

J. B. Wasson was called upon and delivered an essay upon the mechanical structure of artificial teeth.

Dr. Acree was next called upon, and delivered an essay upon gold plate as superior to all other bases for mounting artificial teeth, and the best manner of manipulating and constructing the same.

Dr. Arrington, President, called the attention of the members of the society to the importance of attending meetings of the society when in their power to do so, and reminding them that it was not only a privilege worthy to be proud of, but, as good citizens of a commonwealth, it was an imperative duty, in order to add to their scientific knowledge such an amount of information as to enable them when called upon for their services to render them in such a manner as to merit the confidence of their patients, which none but the well-informed and skillful operators can justly claim; believing that at no far distant day the most humble individual of the land will fully appreciate the well-informed dentist, and that associations of this character are well calculated to promote the desired end.

On motion the Public Ledger received a unanimous vote of thanks for publishing the proceedings of the meeting.

On motion, the society adjourned to meet at Nashville, Tennessee, next December, and at Lookout Mountain in July following.

RADICAL BLACK MAIL.—Felix Cross, Esq., to whom we are so often indebted for favors in the way of news, handed for [illegible] yesterday evening a copy of the Sturgeon (Mo.) Independent, of date of July 18th, and in it, Cross alluded to is a ed slip. The Mr. [illegible] is the way that brother of Felix's. Th[illegible] hopes to pertheinfamous Radical party [illegible]men into petuate its power. It puts [illegible] hold place, or allows men who honest[illegible] in places, as Mr. Cross does, to remain office only so long as they subserve their rascally and villainous ends; therefore we may expect to hear of Mr. Cross' head rolling off at any time:

S. F. Cross, our Postmaster, received a letter yesterday levying a peremptory contribution of $14, out of his salary of $350 to keep Grant and Colfacts up, and the country down. This is the declared purpose in making the demand—that is, to aid in the election of Grant and Colfax. The letter is signed by William Claflin, William E. Chandler, Edwin D. Morgan, Robert C. Schenck and Thomas L. Tullock, who we presume are officers of the Grand Army.

Mr. Cross says he is of opinion that the two individuals above named have levied sufficient black mail on the country to keep them up pretty well till the election, at which time the people will assign them a position in which a very magnificent style of living will not be expected of them. He declines contributing.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23, 1868.

Editors Appeal:

Without intending to disparage the claims of others, I desire to suggest the name of Wm. W. Vaughn, Esq., of Brownsville, as an eminently suitable selection for Elector of this district. At our last election, Mr. Vaughn was induced to become a candidate for State Senator for the counties of Madison, Haywood, Tipton and Lauderdale, notwithstanding the recognized majority against him was at least two thousand; but by an energy, industry and ability seldom equaled, he overcome this majority, and the Radicals had to throw out the vote of one of the Madison districts to give his opponent a majority of six. In addition to his energy and industry, he is personally very popular with the masses, both white and black, and the campaign he made last summer against such overwhelming odds, entitles him to consideration at this time.

Yours, respectfully, etc, A VOTER.

HORSE THIEVES CAPTURED.

Strange Developments.

An Organized Band of Horse Thieves in DeSoto Co., Miss.

It Comprises Preachers and Judges.

We learn the following statement from a passenger on yesterday evening's train from Mississippi:

For some months past, planters and others living in the neighborhood of Hernando and Grenada, have been in the habit of losing stock, principally horses. Several experts have attempted from time to time to trail the animals, and have succeeded in tracking them to Senatobia, where, invariably, all trace was lost. Some days ago a stranger went to the Sheriff of Senatobia and informed him that he had been solicited to join a regularly organized band of horse thieves, and asked him what he should do. The Sheriff advised him to pretend to join them, get into their confidence and then inform on them. This he did, and a few days afterward went to the Sheriff and gave the names of some dozen or fifteen of the citizens of the county as being engaged in the affair—among them two preachers and an ex Judge of the Probate Court of Carrol county.

It is said that this gang or company were in the habit of stealing horses from the whole county and driving them to Huntsville for sale. Day before yesterday a Vigilance Committee was formed of citizens to whom these facts were detailed, and they immediately arrested all of the delinquents within reach, and at the latest accounts received were trying them secundem artem Judge Lynch at Senatobia. We await further developments by telegraph.

DARING ROBBERY.

Several Hundred Dollars Stolen

Last evening Mr. Leddin, who has the Commercial College on Main street, near the corner of Jefferson, left his rooms and went to supper about seven o'clock, leaving everything in good order before he went out. On returning some half hour later he found that some person or persons unknown had forced an entrance, and had helped themselves to several hundred dollars of spare cash that he had laid away for safe keeping.

The porter of the establishment was suspected immediately for various reasons, and we learn was arrested by the First District police. No developments have been made up to the present writing.

AN EXCITEMENT.

Last night as the City of Alton touched the wharf, a stranger with a valise in his hand leaped off the gang-plank and started up the bluff. He was seen by a deck hand to start up Jefferson street, and as he neared the end of the front block, to fire a pistol at some one who ran off.

This was about midnight and caused several industrious itemizers to start off, note-book in hand to glean the facts, but the above was all that could be learned; shooter and shootee had both disappeared.

THE MERCHANTS' NATIONAL BANK. We understand at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Merchants' National Bank, held on Friday, it was decided to re-open the bank for business on Monday next. This is a gratifying announcement to every citizen in this community, as the sympathies of the people were fully awakened in behalf of the officers and shareholders of the bank. We regret to learn that our highly esteemed friend Mr. R. C. Daniel, of New York, to whom the Directors tendered the cashiership of the bank, or any office therein, will not be able to accept, as the business of his house in the Metropolitan city requires his active attention. We tender to the shareholders of this institution and all parties interested our cordial congratulations upon this reopening, and hope they may meet the success they richly merit.

MEETING AT COLLEGE GROVE.—The meeting was called to order by Mr. E. L. Hamilton, who moved that Mr. J. W. Clapp be appointed chairman. Carried. The Colonel addressed the meeting. Mr. M. B. Trezevant then moved that H. C. Mariner be appointed Secretary, which was carried. Mr. M. B. Trezevant then moved that a committee of five be appointed to draft resolutions. The chairman appointed Messrs. M. B. Trezevant, Morris Webb, W. R. Cunningham, H. G. Fernandez and David Poston, as the committee.

The Hon. T. W. Brown then addressed the meeting in a few short and telling remarks, as also did several others, among which were J. K. Poston, Jr., John Donovan, and Judge Ellett. There were about twenty-five members enrolled. The meeting then adjourned until next Friday evening. There were about one hundred present.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The mud upon the lower end of the levee is getting quite plentiful. Business dull even for the season.

The fine steamer City of Alton, Capt. Wm. Thompson, will back out to-day for Cairo and St. Louis, where she connects with the Northern Line. The Alton is a splendid passenger packet, surpassed by none on the river. Mr. Jim White is chief clerk.

The United States Mail steamer Julia, Captain Lockhart, with Andy Isaacs in the office, will be in port to leave for Vicksburg and way points to-day at 5 p.m.

Captain W. Jay Johnson received a telegram yesterday from Captain Tobin that the steamer Pargoud would leave here promptly at 5 o'clock Sunday evening. Freight for the Pargoud will be received to-day at the Star Wharfboat for New Orleans and intermediate points, and bills lading signed by the agent.

The Lizzie Gill, Captain O'Neal, will pass up for St. Louis to-day at 10 a.m.

The fine steamer Liberty, Captain Jim Rice, will back out to day at her usual hour for White river. She is the U. S. Mail packet, and makes all way landings. By a new arrangement the Liberty connects at the mouth with the steamer Platte City for Vicksburg. Passengers are now ticketed through to all points South by this line. Mitt Harry is chief clerk of the Liberty, and is assisted by Charley Sharp.

Workmen are now putting the texas upon the W. A. Caldwell, and in a few days she will look like another boat.

The Legal Tender is at last on her way South.

Portland bar is almost an insurmountable barrier to boats plying to Louisville.

35 Miles Above Town, at Anchor.

Dear Appeal: While the good snag craft is at the bank, spending the Sabbath and awaiting the coming of to-morrow to try her hand at a long pull, on five long snags at "Bow Point," I have presumed that a few lines would be taken not amiss. Arkansas has given from her loyal bosom the "Hot Springs," yet it is strange that her denizens can't get used to the "summer of our discontent," which is so warm that the old Georgia costume of "spurs and collar" with a pair of tin boots is sighed for. It may be of interest to your many readers of the river to know what Uncle Sam's J. J. Abert has been doing on the "pick up" line since she left your port under the hottest sun of mid summer, with the old veteran Wm. B. Dodson in command, late of Fithian's "old Pacific" that sunk at the Point in the fall of 1857. With Tom Truman at the helm it is impossible for a "snag" to live and poke its head above water in "dog days." From the log-book of the Abert we find that sixteen snags from the head of Paddy's Hen and Chickens to this point have been taken up, amputated and thrown overboard. These river monsters which have been a terror to navigation, are now no more. The pilot on his larboard or leeward watch will now find the old Democratic channel, free of all Grant snags, or Colfax sawyers, and if the Long, De Russy and Abert play all summer on this line doing the service of the latter, navigation will be again safe, and the underwriters should confer a reward upon the noble crew who have performed the service—the immense job of modifying all risk to them of life and of property by the removal of a nuisance more terrible than taxation or the Freedmen's Bureau, from the folly of follies and the king of floods. The darkies, in honor of the "snag boat," gave a shindig, in which the sable crew all participated. One of the darkies, at the close of a "pertillion," declared that "it was better, 'fore God, dan pulling up dem snags from de ribber, dat was not in de way if dey would run round 'em." The clerk has just called on me to take a drop of Mississippi with Missouri mud in it; but fearing a sun-stroke, has suggested ice—and what Gen. Grant used to take. The Victor No. 2 is now at the landing, and reports the death of Col. Geo. W. Guess, of Texas, who died suddenly on board last evening. She was forced to return with his corpse, where they have been cenotsapped to await the arrival of the remains of A. Frank Roberson, his brother-in law, who died in the bend of 35 some two years ago. What a melancholy truth do we find in this fearful and heart-rending picture. His loved wife, a most excellent lady, had come on a pilgrimage of more than a thousand miles to visit the burial place of her husband, who had found a grave amidst strangers in a wild yet hospitable land. She had come to pay love's last tribute at her heart's wedded shrine—to remove to your beautiful Elmwood all that was mortal of him, and immortal with her, that he might rest in this his last slumber, though far away from his loved Lone Star home, above the high waters of the lowland where stranger hands had placed him; that she might plant with her own hands the willow, fit emblem of her sorrow, and the ivy, fit memento of her love.

"Two graves," side by side, will hold the two Texan friends. May the turf rest lightly upon them, and may prudence teach this wounded heart to bear the trials of His will. When she returns home with a gulf dividing her from him, may she calmly await till she, too, is called to meet him, where flowers fade not, and death is known no more.

We but express her own wishes in thanking her friends. Their kind deeds will be remembered. To Mr. S, of Arkansas, and the urbane hosts of the Overton, S. B. Robbins & Co., her thanks are especially due.

More anon, semi occasionally.

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-two years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost, our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these Instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower registers retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in Disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted five years.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, July 24, 1868.

To-day was a quiet one in all branches of trade, though there was some little inquiry for a few staple articles in the line of breadstuffs and provisions, and prices are about the same as at our last. The general stagnation in business which prevails in this country has its counterpart in Europe. From a correspondent of the Financial Chronicle who has had ample means of estimating, we learn that not even the weather, which is nothing less than magnificent, or the abundance of money, has any effect in promoting activity in commercial circles. That same extreme caution to which we have been accustomed for so long still pervades all classes, and although a moderate legitimate trade is doing, there is no activity, because there is no speculation. From a good harvest and from cheaper wheat and bread, we expect great results; but it seems questionable whether one good crop of wheat could act as a cure for all recent misfortunes.

The Merchants' National Bank, it is now definitely settled, will open on Monday. Mr. R. C. Daniels, who has been here for some time aiding in putting the affairs of the bank in shape, is, we learn, to leave for New York to-day.

We have no change to report in the discount market. A little short time prompt paying paper is taken at rates ranging from 8 to 12 per cent at the counter and upon the streets at ½ to 3 per cent per month.

Exchange is steady at our last quotations. Buying at par to ¼ prem. Selling at ¼@½ prem. $20,000 was taken on New York at one bank to-day.

Gold opened in New York at 143½, from which it did not deviate until the close. A small amount only was offered here. Brokers buy at 141@142. Selling at 142@143. These are quotations for small lots.

Bonds and stocks are dull and nominal. We quote City bonds, 54@56c. Memphis & Charleston railroad stock, 52@53c. Memphis Gas Company stock, $1 50; Mississippi Central Railroad, 1st mortgage bonds, 58c; 2d do. 40c. Mississippi and Tennessee, 1st mortgage bonds, 50c. Memphis and Louisville 1st mortgage bonds, 30@32c; 2d do. 20c. Memphis and Little Rock bonds, 40c.

The following are the New York quotations for Government securities to-day: Coupons '81, 15½; do '82, 14½; do '64, 11½; do '65, 12½; new issue, 9½; do '67, 9½; 10-40s, 8½; 7-30s, 2d and 3d, 8¾; Tennessee bonds not quoted. Government bonds quiet. City Scrip is firm. Buying at 75@76. Selling irregularly. We quote a sale of $900 on the street at 76c.

County Warrants and Police Scrip are very little changed since yesterday. The former are scarce at 54@55c buying—$170 taken at 54c by a broker. Selling at 58@60c. The latter is dull at 70c buying. Selling at 73@75c.

Cotton was steady in Liverpool at the opening to-day—Uplands, 10¼d; Orleans, 10¼d. There was no change at noon, but at the close the market was easier—Uplands, 10¼d; Orleans, 10¼d. Sales, 10,000 bales. Week's sales, 45,000, of which 10,000 was taken for export, and 3000 by speculators. Stock on hand 602,000 bales, of which 32,000 is American. Stock afloat, 781,000, of which 13,000 is American.

In New York at the opening cotton was dull and nominal. Low Middlings, 29½@29¾c; Middlings, 31c; Orleans, 31½; Good Middlings, 33c and very scarce, closing dull and nominal at same quotations. Sales, 750 bales.

This market was dull and nominal throughout.
